COMMACK HIGH SCHOOL SOUTH

Commack, Long Island, New York

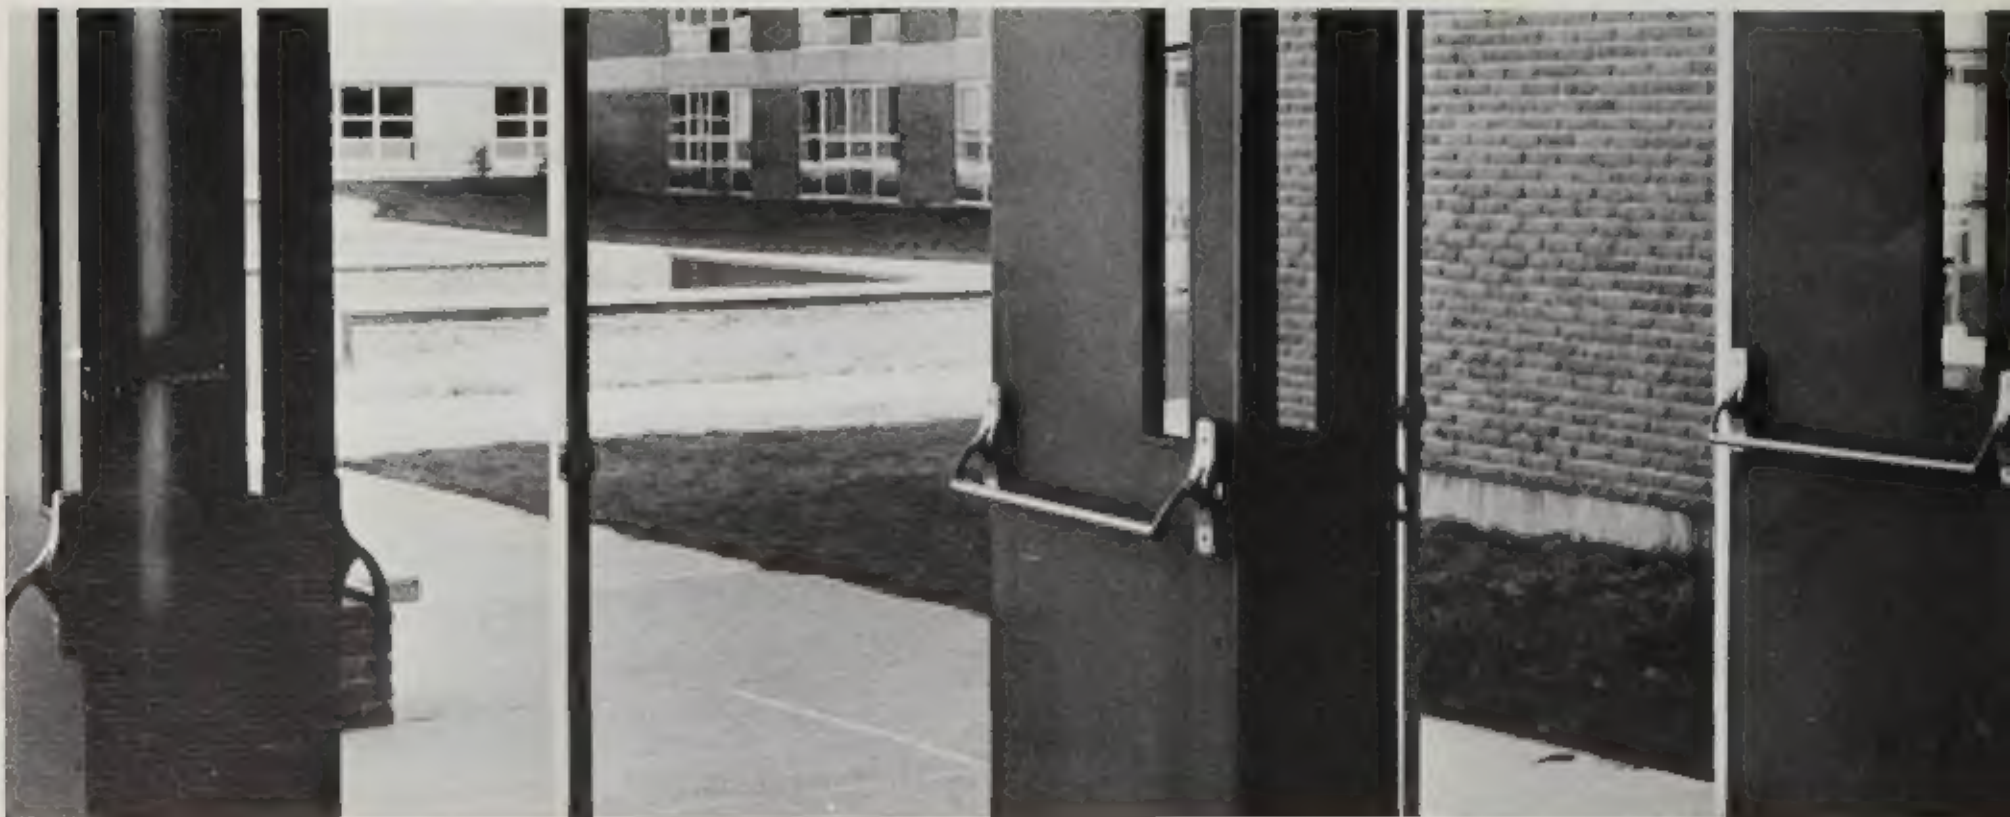

There Are Places I Remember

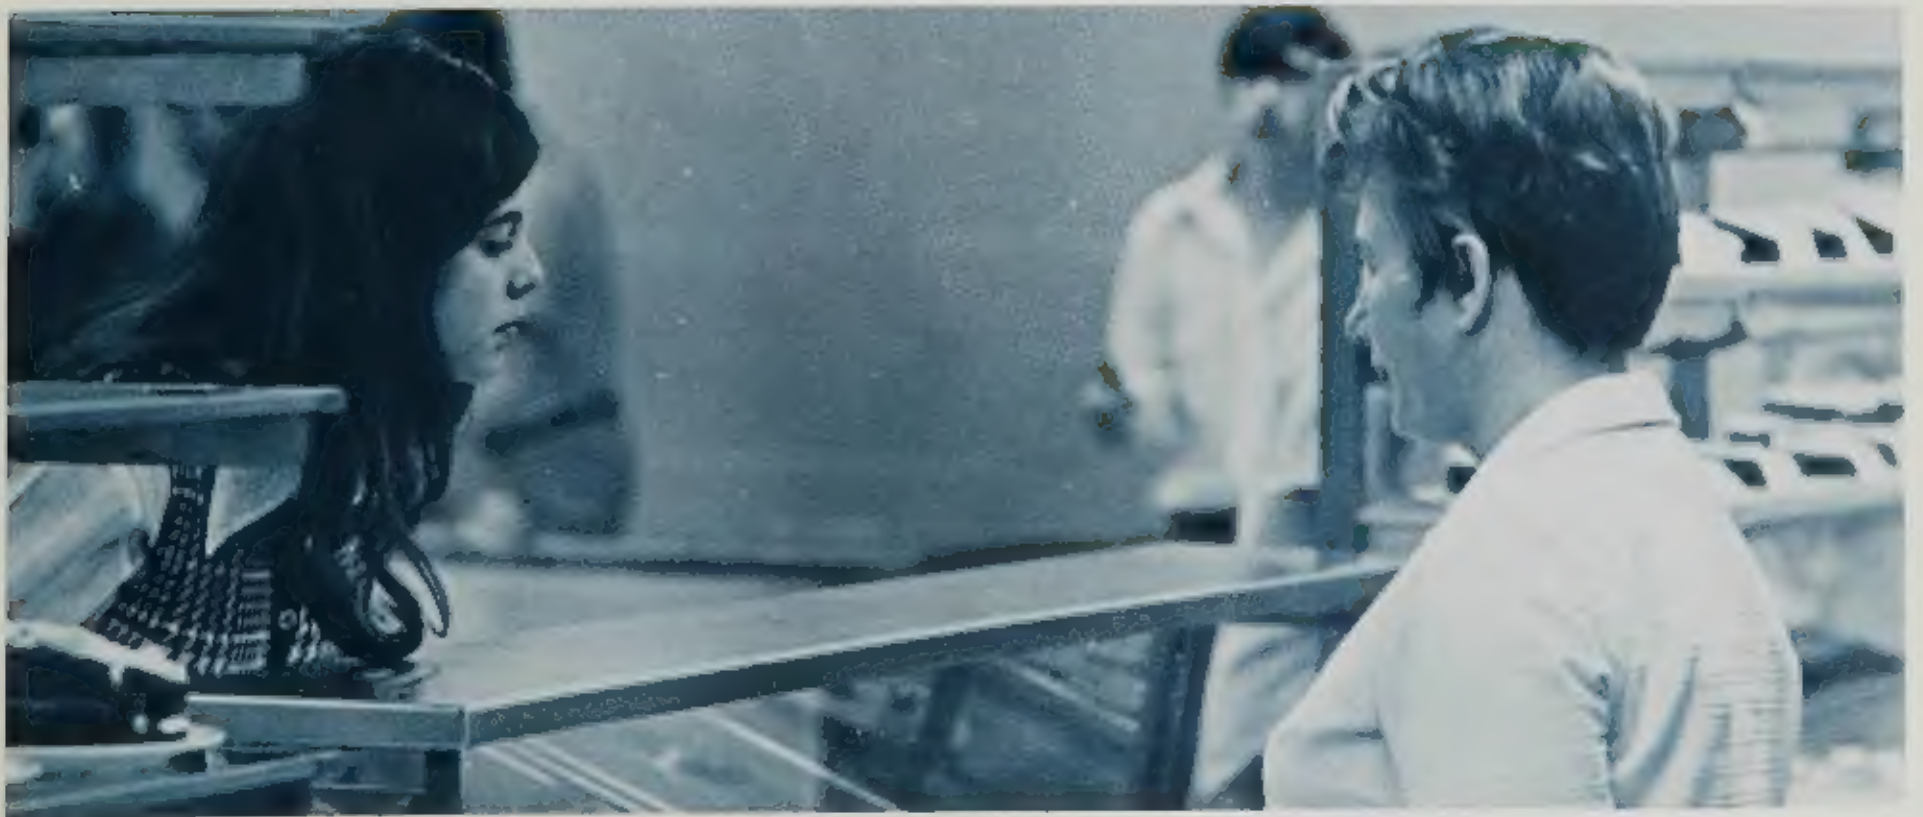

All My Life . . .

Though Some
Have Changed.

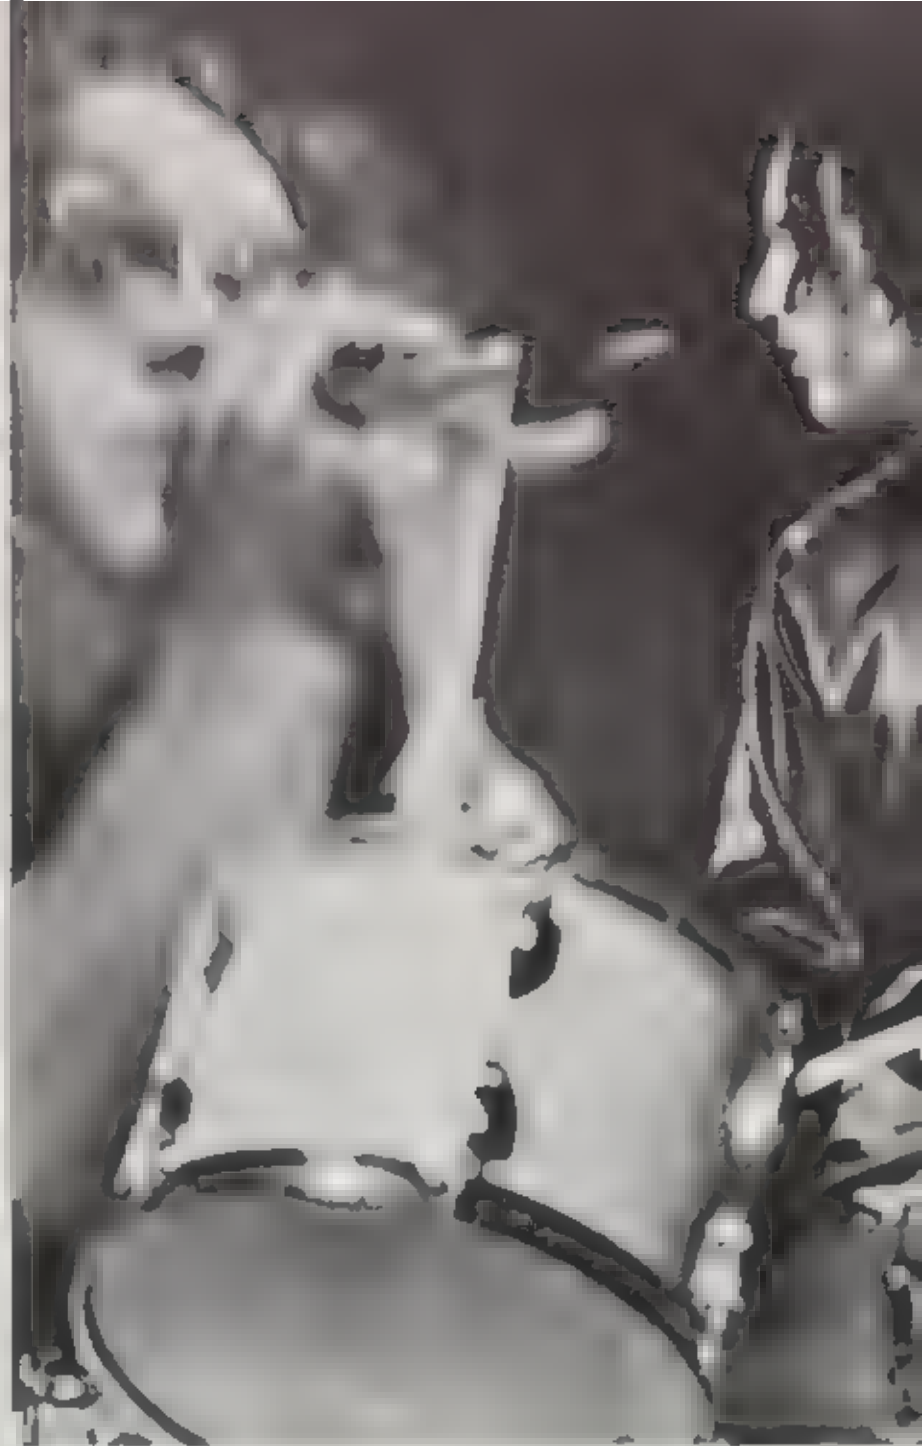

Some Forever Not For Better . . .

Some Have Gone And Some Remain.

These Places Have Their Moments

With Lovers And Friends

I Still Can Recall

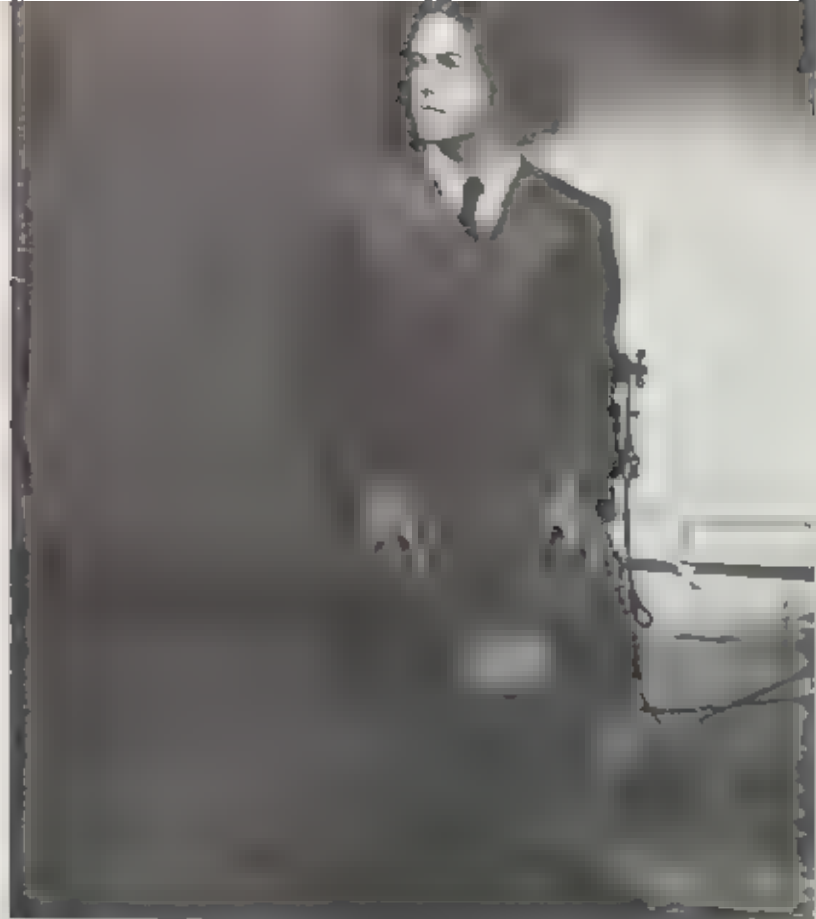

Though I Know I'll Never Lose Affection

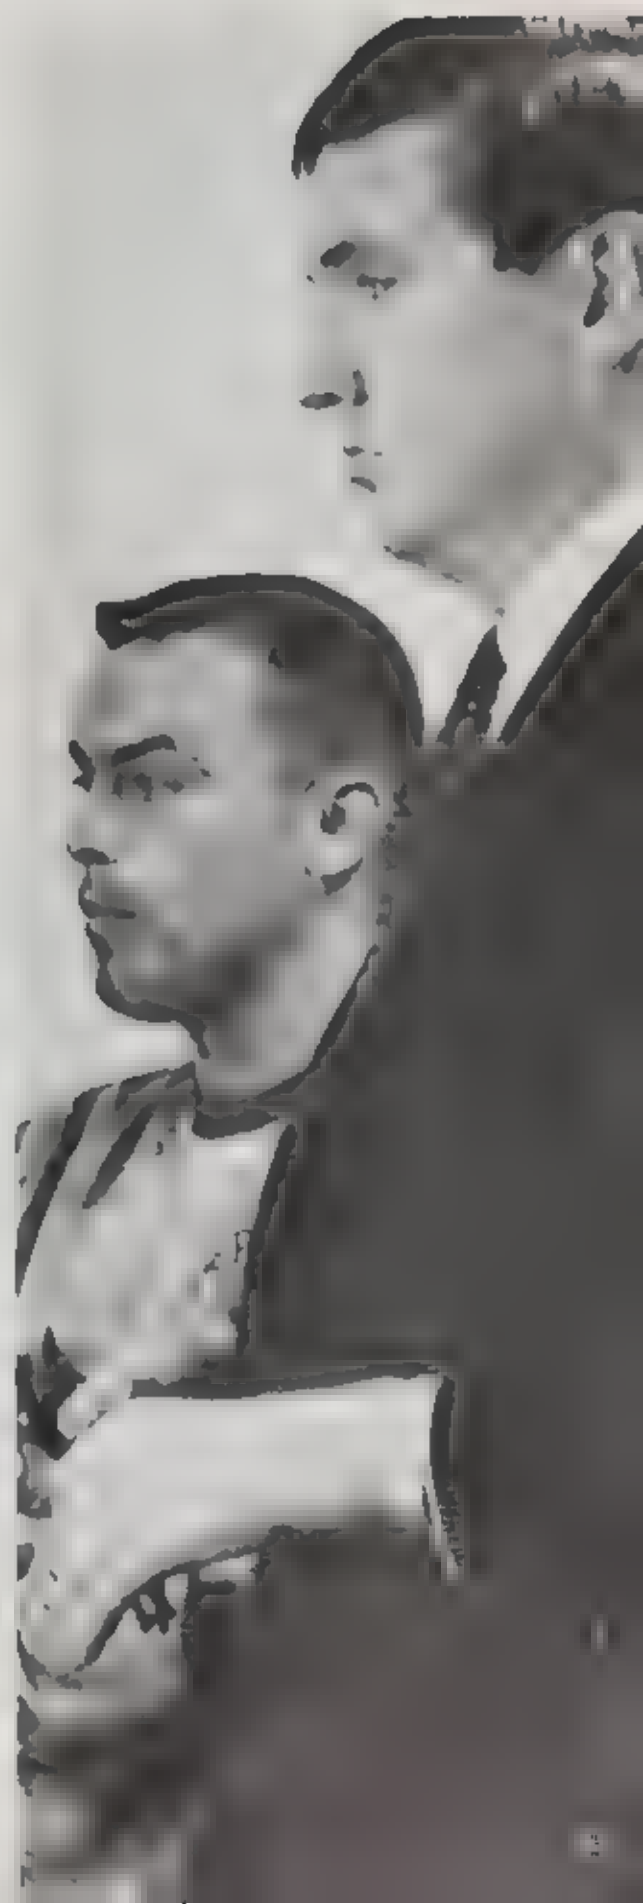

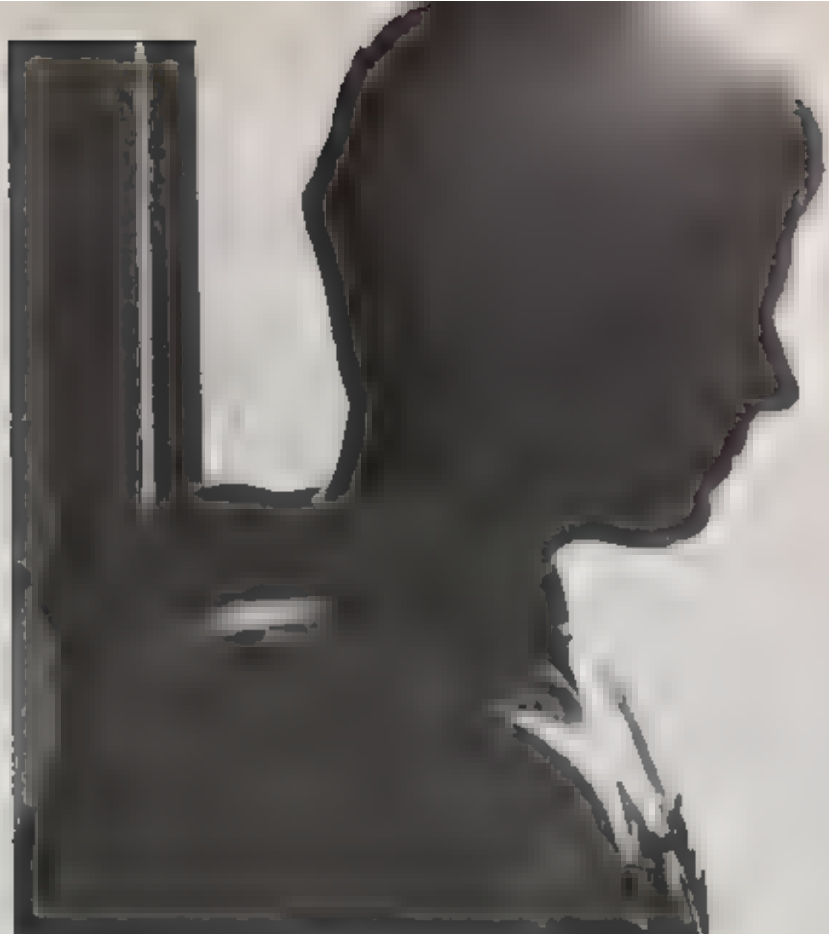

For People And Things That Went Before

I Know I'll Often Stop And Think About Them . . .

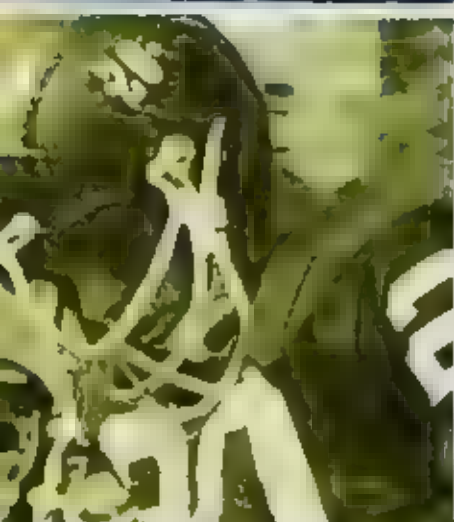

In My Life

I Loved
Them All.

There Are Places I'll
Remember
All My Life,

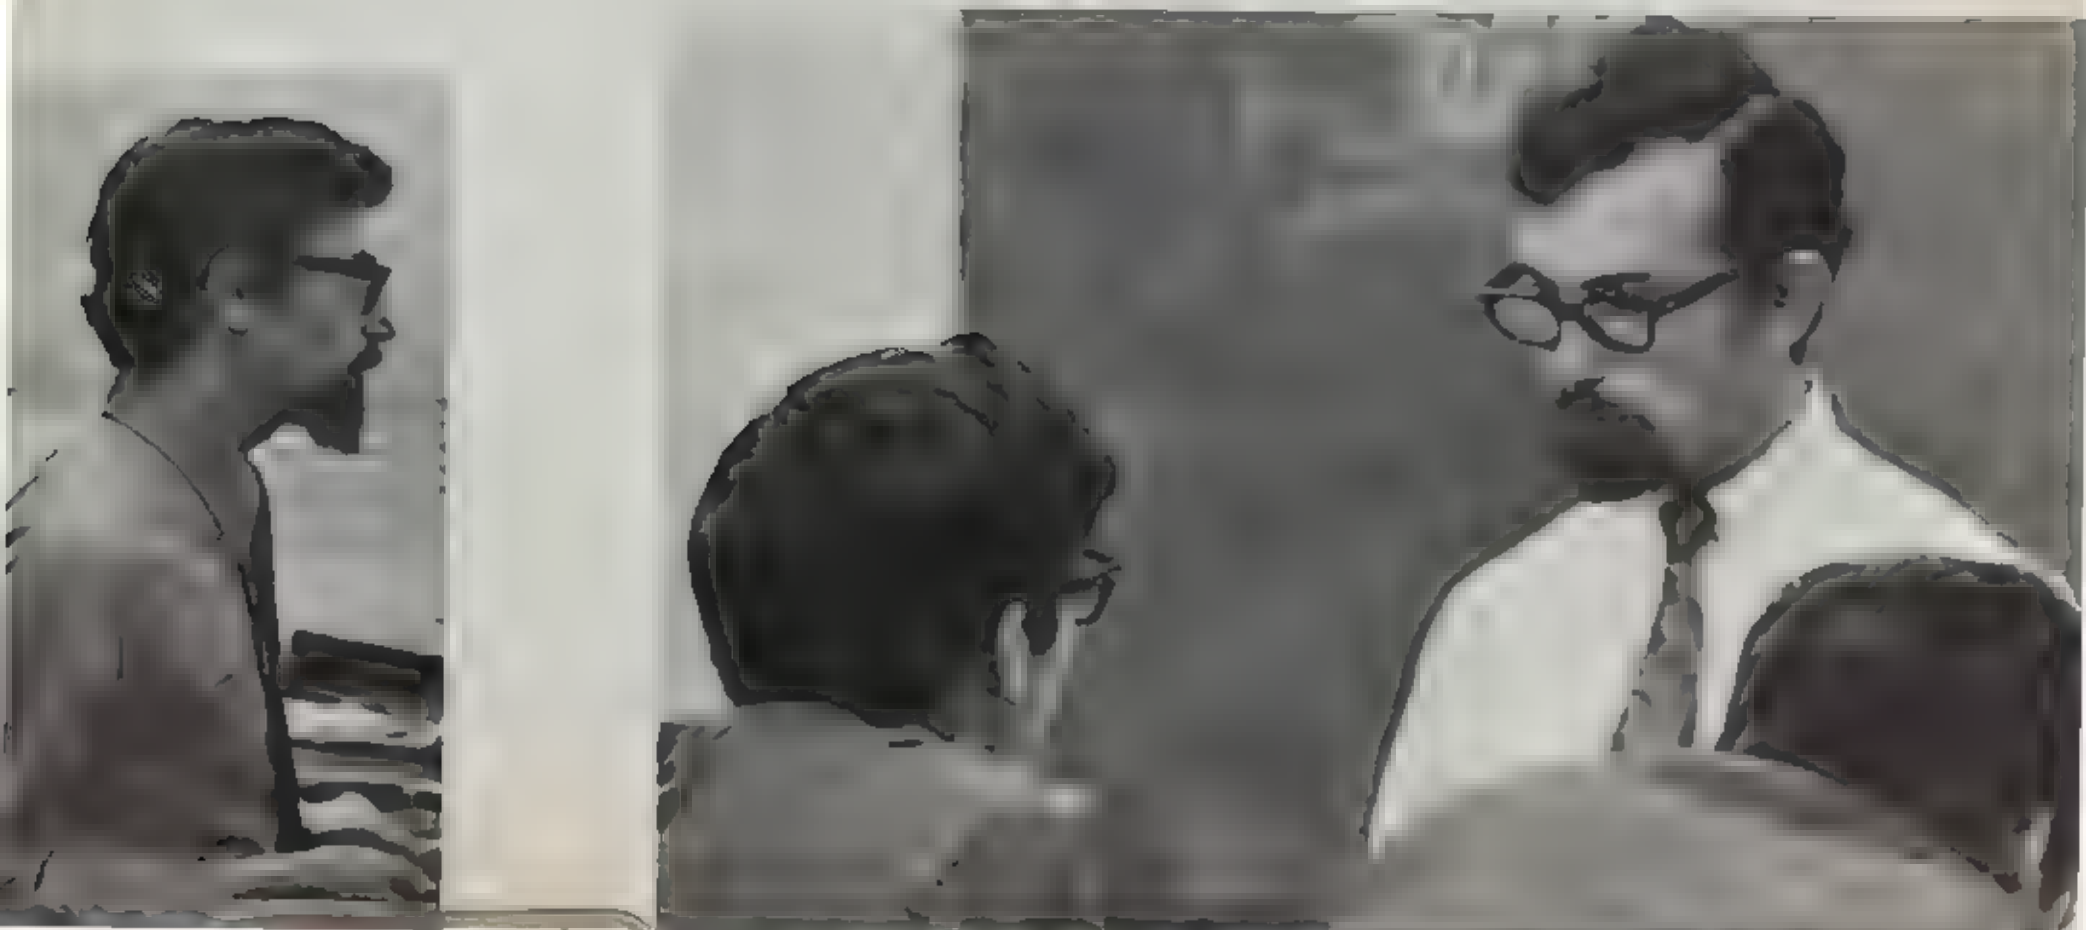

Though Some Have Changed

We, the first graduating class of Commack High School South, have taken on the task of setting the precedent for the future classes of Commack High South. In dealing with these tasks, we have had to overcome many obstacles. These obstacles could not have been faced alone, but had to be faced as a class. The class could not have overcome these obstacles without the help of the faculty and administration. Among these stands out Mr. A. P. Van Dercreek.

As advisor to Commack South's yearbook, Vindauga, he has helped us in putting together our first yearbook. In the role of advisor, he has allowed the staff to put forth their own ideas and expressions without limiting their creativity. His mannerisms and personality have made working on Vindauga a worthwhile and enjoyable experience. For these reasons, we the Senior Class of 1970, dedicate Commack South's first yearbook, Vindauga, to Mr. A. P. Van Dercreek.

Dear Friends:

There have been many changes at Commack High School South in the last two years as evidenced by the introduction of new subjects and the growth of a strong extra-curricular and sports program. It has been exciting to watch a student body become involved in the responsibilities inherent in its new school.

It would seem appropriate to pause as we enter the decade of the seventies, with its many conflicts and changes, and reflect upon the increasing influence Commack High School South will have on thousands who pass through its doors in the next ten years. It is important that the school create an atmosphere conducive to student involvement, for it is here that one can learn the full meaning of a sense of responsibility. The skills and knowledge acquired will certainly help those who graduate to play a positive and ever-increasing role in finding solutions for the controversies of the day.

This yearbook represents one of the many school activities that require student involvement. It has been a real-life situation where young people, challenged with a goal, faced the realities of deadlines, limited budget and solutions to opposing ideas. Their degree of success, portraying the school program in word and picture, will be judged by all who read these pages. We feel confident that you, too, will be proud of the record.

Pride in accomplishment can serve as motivation for future attainment of worthwhile goals. As parents and staff view with pride what has been accomplished by so many in these two years, hopefully it will serve as a source of faith and belief in what can and will be accomplished at Commack High School South during the seventies.

Sincerely,

J. A. Mould

It has been a busy year for all those involved in making this yearbook something special. Most people don't realize the work that goes into making a yearbook. The layouts, the pictures, the arrangements, and the arguments, yet all in all a terrific experience. This finished product was due to the guidance of our Editors—Donna and Sue Purrazzella and our Advisor—Mr. Van Dercreek. With them, the staff worked unceasingly to make this book a memorable one.

One of the most important, most needed, and hardest working organizations in the school is the Student Council. The Student Council has shown leadership and drive in making Commack South successful in all its undertakings. Without the help of the officers, executive board members, and representatives, the many activities would not have been successful.

Girls Leaders' Corps

Miss Nancy Hadland, Advisor of Girls' Leaders Corps

Leadership, ability, scholarship, and responsibility are the qualities that make a good leader. These qualities can be found in the Girls' Leaders Corps of Commack South. These girls do many services for our school, which includes ushering at assemblies, and selling refreshments at various athletic events. Under the guidance of Miss Nancy Hadland, these girls show unity and spirit.

There are places I remember all my life—
Though some have changed.
Some forever not for better
Some have gone and some remain.
These places have their moments
with lovers and friends
I still can recall.
Though I know I'll never lose affection.
For people and things that went before,
I know I'll often stop and think about them.
In my life I loved them all.
There are places I'll remember
All my life
